Asia House off to a busy start

On 21 February, Minister for Industry, Business and Financial Affairs Brian Mikkelsen held the keynote speech at the reopening of Asia House after January's renovation. The minister, who was leaving for a visit to China the next day, underlined the importance of Asia for Denmark's future trade, and recognized Asia House as a strong Danish platform for strengthening the relation to Asia in this regard.

H.E. Ambassador Vimom Kidchob outlined the many and diverse links between Asia House and Thailand and other Asian countries, while Mr. Mads Lebech, Director for The Danish Industry Foundation, underlined the importance of good relations and free trade, emphasizing the growing importance of Asia as a global partner.

On the last day of February, Asia House hosted a full-day seminar focusing on the health sector in Bangladesh. During the first part, a closed session brought together high-ranking experts from the Danish health sector with a delegation from Bangladesh and during the afternoon's business seminar the focus was on discussing with Danish companies the opportunities and challenges in doing business in Bangladesh.

Asia House will host a variety of events in March and looks forward to seeing you, invitations will be sent separately.
